

Connecting research and researchers

Sign in / Register

English

Marina Pisklakova-Parker

<https://orcid.org/0000-0003-3551-1807>Show record summary

Personal information

No personal information available

Biography

MARINA PISKLAKOVA-PARKER

Marina Pisklakova-Parker is internationally recognized as one of the leading women's rights activists in Russia. In 1993 Marina started as a part of the Institute for Socio-Economic Studies of Population in Moscow the first helpline for battered women and worked alone for half a year. Now it is known as the Center for the Prevention of Violence "ANNA".

Since 1995 Ms. Pisklakova-Parker became a trainer on violence against women as violation of women's human rights for other women's organizations that decided to start a Crisis center for women and contributed significantly to the development of the network of Crisis Centers for women in Russia and former Soviet Union.

As a researcher Marina Pisklakova-Parker took part in the first Russian-American study of Russian Marriages where domestic violence was part of the survey in 1997. As a part of Russian-American team she is a co-author of the book "Marriages in Russia" published in the USA and Russia. Ms. Pisklakova-Parker is an author and co-author of number of books and articles regarding violence against women. She holds PhD in Sociology and participated in a number of surveys in Russia on domestic violence, fatherhood, gender equality, including adapting IMAGES for Russia. She is an author and co-author of a number of publications.

Aiuto

She is often invited to speak internationally as an expert on the issue of violence against women, including domestic violence and trafficking in human beings. She spoke at Columbia University, George Washington University, Georgetown University, Notre Dame University, UCS, UCLA, California Lutheran University, Brookings Institute, International Institute for Social Studies (the Hague), NYU (Florence) and many others.

Marina Pisklakova-Parker and her Center for the prevention of violence ANNA actively work on the creating an effective system of response to domestic violence by educating governmental officials, the public and professional groups about the issue of domestic violence in Russia and other countries. Today the ANNA National Network against violence unifies over 150 organizations working on combating violence against women in Russia and over 20 organizations from the former Soviet Union.

Over last twenty years Ms. Pisklakova-Parker conducted a number of training for the law enforcement officials, judges, prosecutors and other governmental officials from Russia and former Soviet Union. In 2012-2014 she was a chair of the working group under the Ministry of Labor of the Russian Federation on drafting a law on domestic violence.

Ms. Pisklakova-Parker was honored among eight most significant human rights activists by International organization Human Rights Watch in 1997 for her work in the area of domestic violence against women. In 1998 Human Rights Watch (California) honored Marina Pisklakova-Parker again together with five other human rights defenders from different countries as most significant activists of the decade.

Ms. Pisklakova-Parker is also featured in the book by Kerry Kennedy Cuomo "Speak Truth to Power" representing Russia (<http://rfkcenter.org/what-we-do/speak-truth-power/defenders-curriculum/marina-pisklakova-lesson/>). She was honored at the Kennedy Center together with 50 human rights defenders as a part of the book release events in September 2000.

In May 2004 Marina Pisklakova-Parker was honored by Vital Voices Global Partnership for her work on trafficking in human beings.

The story of Marina's life and work as one of seven women-leaders working to advance women's and human rights is featured in the documentary play SEVEN (<https://seventheplay.com> )

In 2011 Marina Pisklakova-Parker was named by Newsweek Magazine as one of 150 Women world-shakers.

In 2013 Glamour magazine (Russia) named Marina Pisklakova-Parker a woman of the year in the nomination Best social project.

Ms. Pisklakova-Parker is the Board member of the Women Against Violence Europe (WAVE) She is also a member of the Global Council of the "Vital Voices Global Partnership".

Activities

Collapse all

▼ Employment (1)

 Sort

Institute for Socio-Economic studies of population: Moscow, RU

1989-12 to present
Employment

Show more detail

Source:  Marina Pisklakova-Parker

Education and qualifications (3)

 Sort

Russian Presidential Academy of National Economy and Public Administration: Moscow, RU

2012 to 2014 | PhD (Sociology)
Education

Show more detail

Source:  Marina Pisklakova-Parker

Russian Presidential Academy of National Economy and Public Administration: Moscow, RU

2010 to 2012 | Master (Sociology)
Education

Show more detail

Source:  Marina Pisklakova-Parker

Moscow Aviation Institute: Moscow, RU

1978 to 1984
Education

Show more detail

Source:  Marina Pisklakova-Parker

Works (2)

 Sort

METHODOLOGY OF RESEARCH OF GENDER ASPECTS OF EVERYDAY ENVIRONMENTAL

PRACTICES OF THE RUSSIAN POPULATION

Scientific Review. Series 1. Economics and Law

2019 | Journal article

DOI: 10.26653/2076-4650-2019-3-4-01

CONTRIBUTORS: Valentina G. Dobrokhleb; Marina P. Pisklakova-Parker

Show more detail

Source:  Crossref

Utilization of labour resources through matching professional and family roles

Entrepreneurship and Sustainability Issues

2017-09-30 | Journal article

DOI: 10.9770/jesi.2017.5.1\(11\))

CONTRIBUTORS: Natalia Rimashevskaya; Marina Malysheva; Marina Pisklakova-Parker; Manuela Tvaronavičienė

Show more detail

Source:  Crossref

The text of this website is published under a CC0 license. Images and marks are subject to copyright and trademark protection.

About ORCID

Privacy Policy

Terms of Use

Accessibility Statement

ORCID Help Center

Dispute procedures

Brand Guidelines

Cookie Settings